

PREFERS JAIL TO SERVICE IN ARMED FORCES

Robert C. Dietz, Hellam R. 1, was fined $250 for involuntary manslaughter in the traffic death of William W. Miller, R. 5, October 13. The court said only Dietz's "character and reputation" barred a jail sentence.

A farmer who was formerly a shipbuilder chose 30 days in the county jail rather than enlist in the armed forces when he was faced with that decision in sentence court here this morning where he had been arraigned on a charge of driving a car after his license had been suspended.

Charles J. Kint, Gettysburg R. 5, told the court he had worked as a shipbuilder until he was told by his draft board to "farm or fight." He chose the farm. This time he chose jail rather than enlistment. He must pay the costs of his case.

John Alexander Pogue, Waynesboro, charged with the theft of 25 gallons of gasoline from an Adams county farmer, was given 30 days in jail and ordered to pay $5 for the stolen gasoline. He also must pay the costs. A prisoner since the time of his arrest a month ago, Pogue's sentence was dated from the time he was jailed so that he is now ready for release.

Seven Conewago township residents were sentenced this morning on serious charges with penalties ranging from probation orders to six-month jail terms.

Harry Clinton Lemmon; his wife, Mary Elizabeth Lemmon; Claude P. Bankert, and Mrs. Vergie Pauline Curry, all of Conewago township, were given six-month jail terms and ordered to pay the costs of their cases. Each faced serious charges.

Miss Mary Wolf, also of Conewago township, charged with a serious offense, was fined $100 and given a suspended jail sentence. She was placed on probation and ordered to pay the costs. Lewis Edward Small, same place, drew a suspended jail sentence on a serious count, was placed on probation for a year and ordered to pay weekly support order of $2. He must post a $500 bond.

George Heller, Gardners R. 2, charged with driving after his license had been revoked, was allowed to renew his bail and appear for sentence in January.

Is Fined $100
Floyd Miller, Jr., 18, Carlisle street, who with a 17-year-old companion admitted robbing the Gettysburg Hardware store of $65 the night of October 1, was given a suspended jail sentence on condition that his plans to enter the Army next Tuesday are carried out. Miller must repay half of the stolen money and the costs of the case.

"The only way you can square yourself with the court is to make of yourself the best possible soldier," Judge W. C. Sheely told the youth. Miller told the court "devilishness" had made him break into the store. Chief of Police Glenn Guise told Judge Sheely that Miller was one of a group of boys which applied a coat of paint to a parked machine in McSherrystown one night recently.

Michael McCarty, Berwick township, charged with pointing a gun, was fined $100 and ordered to pay. (Please Turn to Page 2)

SPECIAL MART SESSION HERE ON WEDNESDAY

A special session of the Farmers' Market will be held next Wednesday morning for the benefit of housewives preparing for family dinners on Thanksgiving Day. The markethouse will open at 7 a. m.

With the point cost lowered or removed on various types of pork and pork products, the volume of business in those goods showed a marked increase this morning with the largest supply of the season on hand.

Ribs and backbones, removed from the ration list, were especially popular while the point value of sausage and most other pork products was reduced.

Orders were being taken this morning for drawn poultry to be delivered Wednesday. Ducks were offered at their 49-cent ceiling price; fryers at 58 cents and heavier fowls at 54 and 55 cents a pound. No particular demand was noted on market today for turkeys with most growers satisfied to hold the birds for Christmas when they will be "grown out."

Live chickens were offered today at 32 cents a pound.

Potatoes brought $2.25 and $2.40 a bushel while Stayman apples sold for $4 and $4.25 a bushel. Dried apples were 20 cents a quart box. Soy (Please Turn to Page 2)

Turkey's Strategic Position

The arrow indicates Turkey's bridgehead into southeast Europe, which would be an important factor in Allied strategy in the event Turkey goes to war with the Axis. The blacked in areas are now held by the Axis. Flags indicate major British and French bases in the eastern Mediterranean, where war activity recently has centered around the islands of Leros, Cos and Samos, just off the Turkish coast. Germans have captured Leros and Cos from British occupation forces and are bombing Samos, which was in British hands Nov. 18.

SCOUT DRIVE FOR FINANCES OPENS DEC. 7TH

Plans for 1944 scouting in the Black Walnut (Gettysburg) Boy Scout district were outlined Friday evening at a meeting of the district committee in the Hotel Gettysburg.

A committee comprising Paul A. Kinsey, John Fidler, Dean W. E. Tilberg and Lloyd W. Kuhn was appointed to set up the annual financial drive scheduled for December 7 to 15.

A progressive camping program under which every scout in the district will be given an opportunity to win two camping badges during the year will be started January 1 as will a program to have each scout in the district secure at least two promotions during the year, the committee was told by Ray F. Zaner, area field executive.

Dates for forthcoming courts of honor were established for both Gettysburg and the upper county troops. The Gettysburg courts of honor will be held December 21 in connection with a Christmas party; February 22 in connection with Boy Scout week and Washington's birthday activities, and April 18 and June 13.

Biglerville will have a court of honor and Christmas party December 20. The upper county troops will hold another court on March 20 and will join with the Gettysburg troops for the June 13 court to be held in conjunction with the annual camporee.

Plans for scout week, February 8 to 14, include participation of all scouts in church services Sunday, February 13 and promotion of window displays on merit badge activities by patrols, it was reported.

A nominating committee comprising John Fidler, Biglerville; Carl A. Westerdahl and Russel Campbell, Gettysburg, was appointed to report at the December meeting to be held at the Hotel Gettysburg, December 21 at 7 p. m.

Special Course For S.S. Leaders

A training course for Sunday School leaders and workers, sponsored by the Second Sunday School district, will open in the Fairfield high school building Monday evening at 8 o'clock.

Mrs. Russell Stoops, dean of the school, announces the following courses and instructors: "Christian Living," taught by the Rev. Harry S. Ecker; "The International Uniform Lessons for the First Quarter of 1944," under the direction of the Rev. John Ehrhart; "Methods of Teaching," taught by the Rev. George Stoenback; "Christian World Action," taught by the Rev. Emmert Colestock. In addition to the above courses Mrs. Ira Henderson will offer a special course on "Visual Education Methods in the Church School."

International credit will be given for the completion of the courses. Members are requested to register at 7 o'clock Monday night.

The course will be composed of six sessions, held on Monday and Thursday evenings, closing on December 9.

Lieut. Hess At Fortress School

Lt. Roland L. Hess, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd H. Hess, 132 Carlisle street, Gettysburg, reported at Lockbourne Army Air Base, Ohio, this week to take a course of instruction in flying the B-17 Flying Fortress.

Lieutenant Hess received his wings at Ellington Field, Houston, Texas, on November 3, and took his previous flying training at Corsicana and Greenville, also in Texas.

Prior to his induction into the service, he was a labor foreman in Mechanicsburg.

TELEGRAM TO LINCOLN IS ON DISPLAY HERE

A prized memento of Abraham Lincoln's visit here 80 years ago—the original of the telegram Mrs. Lincoln sent the Civil War president from Washington the night of November 18, 1863—is on display in the show window of Lippy's store on Chambersburg street.

The property of John D. Lippy, Jr., the telegraphed message in Mrs. Lincoln's handwriting was bought some years ago by Mr. Lippy at the sale of the personal effects of David Homer Bates, War Department telegrapher of Lincoln's day and author of the book "Lincoln in the Telegraph Office." Mr. Bates accepted and sent the message to the Gettysburg concerning the illness of the president's son, Tad.

The 20-word telegram was filed at 9:40 o'clock the night of November 18. Mr. Lincoln spent that night at the Judge Wells home, now the P. W. Stallsmith building, center square. Mr. Lippy says he understands the message was received about lunchtime on the 19th.

"Taddie Is Better"
The text of the message follows: "Hon. A. Lincoln, Gettysburg, Pa. The Dr. has just left. We hope dear Taddie is slightly better. Will send you a telegram in the morning."

Mrs. Lincoln
Historians have said that there was uncertainty about the president's plans to come to Gettysburg because of the serious illness of his son. It apparently was because of that anxiety over the youth's condition that Mrs. Lincoln sent the favorable word to her husband here on the eve of the delivery of the immortal Gettysburg Address.

Philip Spicer At Minnesota School

Pvt. Philip B. Spicer, 25, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles B. Spicer, R. D. 4, has arrived at St. John's university, Collegeville, Minnesota, for a course of Army Air Force instruction of approximately five months prior to his appointment as an Aviation Cadet in the Army Air Forces.

During this period he will take numerous academic courses, as well as elementary flying training. Upon completion of the course he will be classified as a pilot, navigator or bombardier and go on to schools of the Flying Training Command for training in these specialties.

MISS SNYDER WEDS OFFICER IN HARRISBURG

Miss Betty Jane Snyder, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. S. F. Snyder, West Stevens street, and Lt. Richard Hanson Bragdon, of the U. S. Air Corps, were married Friday afternoon at 4 o'clock in Zion Lutheran church, Harrisburg. Dr. Stewart Winfield Herman, officiated.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. She wore a soldier blue suit and hat with matching accessories and an orchid corsage. Miss Margaret Scott, Gettysburg, maid of honor, wore an orchid suit and a corsage of mixed flowers. Lt. Charles Joselyn, Middletown, was best man.

Live In Harrisburg

The bride is a graduate of Gettysburg high school and attended Gettysburg college and the Institute of Stenotyping, Philadelphia. She is private secretary to a Milk Control Board commissioner at Harrisburg. Lieutenant Bragdon is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd M. Bragdon, Middletown, Delaware. He attended the University of North Carolina and was employed by E. I. DuPont de Nemours company, Wilmington, before entering the armed forces two years ago. He is stationed with the Middletown Air Service command at Middletown, Pennsylvania.

Following the ceremony the couple left on a brief wedding trip. The couple will reside in Harrisburg for the time being after returning from the trip.

ASK GIFTS FOR MONT ALTO KIDS FOR CHRISTMAS

To help make the Christmas season happier for the 168 boys and girls in the children's hospital at Mont Alto, Miss Mildred L. Adams, county home economics extension representative, announced today that home economics clubs throughout the county will give and collect Christmas gifts for the youngsters who range in age from two to 18 years.

Special provision will be made for the 14 orphaned patients at the state tuberculosis hospital.

Miss Adams conferred Friday with members of the hospital staff and found that hair ribbons, combs, stationery, games and toys as well as more practical gifts such as soap and powder will be welcomed.

Miss Adams suggested that service clubs, Sunday school classes or other groups join in the effort to brighten Christmas time for the young patients. The gifts may be turned over to Miss Adams at her office in the court house by December 16. The volume of presents sent to the Mont Alto children has dropped off greatly during the last two years, staff members told Miss Adams, pointing out that some groups that used to bring presents have dropped that activity during wartime.

CORONER'S JURY OPENS PROBE OF FATAL ACCIDENT

The investigating police officer, a Gettysburg Times photographer and three survivors of the fatal accident at York Springs early last Monday morning testified Friday afternoon at the court house as Dr. C. G. Crist, county coroner, opened his official inquest into the death of Pfc. Ralph Shatzler, 19-year-old Fort Meyer soldier.

The inquest will be completed when other witnesses, some of whom now remain as patients in the Warner hospital, are able to testify. Doctor Crist indicated Friday it may be several weeks or a month before he can complete his probe with the presentation of a verdict by the jury.

The three companions of Private Shatzler gave the six-man jury a meager account of the manner in which the accident occurred in statements which followed closely those made the morning of the crash.

Charge Excessive Speed
Pfc. Milton Manbeck, 29, Ono, Lebanon county, owner and operator of the car which was taking the four soldiers back to their posts at Fort Meyer, Virginia, after week-end leaves at their homes, said there was a flash of headlights and then the crash.

Stating that none of his party had been drinking that night, Manbeck said the quartet had left Harrisburg about 1:15 o'clock. He noticed the "slow" warning signs as he approached the intersection and took his foot off the accelerator. The other car came out of the side road so fast he "couldn't do anything about it," he testified.

Manbeck declared the other machine was going more than 60 miles an hour. Shatzler rode beside Manbeck. The latter suffered fractures of two ribs, cuts about the head and bruises all over. The witness said his job at Fort Meyer is to drive a "peep" and added that he had been an officer's chauffeur at Indiantown Gap earlier. This was his first accident, he said.

Jury Inspects Photos
He was followed on the stand by Pfc. Earl Funk, Lebanon R. 3, and William Kelly, Kingston, Pennsylvania. Both said Manbeck was a careful driver. Both said they noticed Manbeck reduce speed as he neared the intersection and said they thought Manbeck had swerved just before the crash in a vain effort to avoid the collision. Both spoke of the high speed of the other car.

Manbeck was cut about the head and face and bruised and had a shoulder dislocation but Kelly said he escaped flying glass by throwing an overcoat in front of his face as the cars crashed. Kelly was knocked out and "came to" lying on the highway.

G. Henry Roth, Gettysburg Times photographer who made pictures at the scene the morning of the crash and later that day, displayed the photos to the jury. There were several views of the overturned Hanover car wedged on its top between two parts of the broken telephone pole, others of the soldiers' wrecked car and views of both approaches to the dangerous intersection.

Officer Testifies
Pvt. George Ackerson, state policeman who investigated, described the accident scene and the positions of the cars. He said there were no brake marks on the highway but said there were indications that Manbeck had swerved to the left in an effort to avoid the other car. He pointed out that the Little car from Hanover had passed two stop signs and that the speed limit in the crossing zone is 35 miles per hour. In answer to a juror's question he said there were indications (Please Turn to Page 2)

Certificates Of Election Issued

The Adams county election board prepared today to send out approximately 350 certificates to officials throughout the county notifying them of their election at the polls November 2.

The certificates will be sent Monday with the board completing its work for the current election Friday when lots were drawn to decide nine times remaining after the election.

The winners in the drawing were: Abbotstown, constable, E. J. Haverstick; Freedom township, supervisor, Walter Rhodes; Huntingtown township, auditor for four years, Archie Lawver; Oxford township, constable, George Martin; Berwick township, minority inspector, Earl Legore; Hamilton township No. 2, judge of elections, Jessie Naugle; majority inspector, Blaine Kauffman; minority inspector, Arthur Wagaman; Reading township, judge of elections, C. R. Potforoff; Tyrone township, supervisor, Freeman Weigle.

200 COUNTIANS TO BE CALLED TO GIVE BLOOD

The eleventh monthly visit this year to Adams county by the Red Cross Blood Donor Service mobile unit from Harrisburg—and the last until January 28—will be made next Friday afternoon with appointment cards to be mailed Monday to 200 Adams countians.

With most of the "appointments to save a life" being made with "repeater," donors, Radford H. Lippy, Blood Donor Service chairman for the Red Cross in Adams county, said today he hopes to equal or exceed the record set here on the October visit of the unit when 152 pints of blood were received.

Local Staff to Assist
The blood receiving unit will be set up as usual in the basement of the College Lutheran church and appointments will be scheduled from noon through to 4:30 or 5 o'clock.

Persons who receive appointments but are unable to keep them should notify Mr. Lippy so that substitutes may be secured in order to keep a steady stream of donors moving through the various departments of the receiving station.

The usual staff of Red Cross nurses and a doctor will come from Harrisburg while local trained nurses and nurses' aides, Red Cross canteen workers and other staff members will be on the job again.

No December Visit
A few newly registered countians will be offering blood for the first time while others will be making their second to fifth visits.

Mr. Lippy said that national Red Cross is urging that new donors be registered to insure a steady flow of blood for plasma to meet the increasing need of that life-restoring fluid on the battlefronts of the world. The fighting in Italy and the nearing prospect of a big-scale invasion of the continent of Europe make the need for large quantities of plasma more pressing, the local chairman said.

Dates for the first six monthly visits to Gettysburg by the Red Cross plasma unit have been listed as follows: January 28, February 25, March 31, April 28, May 26 and June 30. No Donor Day has been scheduled for Adams county next month.

REACH DECISION IN SHIELDS CASE

Harrisburg, Nov. 20 (AP)—The personnel board of the state Health Department today reported it has submitted to Secretary Dr. A. H. Stewart a decision on the plea for reinstatement made by William I. Shields, dismissed as Adams county health officer.

"We have reached a decision and submitted it to Doctor Stewart," declared Mrs. Ruth Glenn Pennell, board member who presided at a hearing this week on Shields' appeal for reversal of the order dismissing him.

Doctor Stewart said he would announce a decision in the case on Monday.

Shields denied charges that he participated in political activities banned by civil service regulations.

Soldier's Wife Dies On Friday

Mrs. Pauline (Staub) Lawrence, 32, a native of Bonneville and wife of S-Sgt. Charles Lawrence, Ft. Lewis, Washington, died Friday morning in Harrisburg.

In addition to her husband she is survived by a daughter, June, Hanover; her father, J. F. Staub, Bonneville; seven brothers and sisters, Mrs. Bernard Lawrence, Hanover; Charles Staub, Gettysburg; Francis, Raymond, Dolores, Norman and Robert Staub, all of Bonneville.

Funeral services with a high requiem mass Tuesday morning at 9 o'clock from St. Joseph's Catholic church, Bonneville, conducted by the Rev. Leo J. Krichen. Interment in the church cemetery.

Friends may call at the Feiser funeral home, Hanover, from Sunday until the time of the services.

The storm of a great Allied winter bombing offensive beating at the industrial foundations of the German Army swept the Reich for the third straight night last night, with an RAF smash at Leverkusen and other Rhineland objectives. The searing Allied air attack, setting up Hitler's Europe for invasion, was kept going, together with a continued lashing of Japanese strongholds in the central Pacific where the first phase of a great promised offensive was underway.

But the Russian forces suffered a setback. The Soviets withdrew from the rail center of Zhitomir southwest of Kiev on the Leningrad-Odessa railroad in the face of strengthened German pressure. In a plunge to the south, however, the Red Army sent another spearhead across the Dnieper river between Kiev and Dnepropetrovsk, approaching Cherkasi and posing a new threat to the Nazis.

Italian Advance Slow, Difficult
Slow and difficult advances continued in Italy, with the British Eighth Army capturing Perano, 13 miles inland from the Adriatic and two miles below the Sangro river, after hard fighting. The Fifth Army improved its positions north of Venafro, headquarters said, and Allied planes struck into northern Italy and again into Yugoslavia.

A possible new crisis was developing in unhappy Vichy. By Swiss reports, Marshal Petain attempted to issue a decree returning France to the democratic constitution of 1875, and to squelch Pierre Laval as his successor. The Germans stymied this plan, it was said, and Petain in protest offered to resign. Petain was reported to be seeking a means of preventing revolution between the Vichy French and Committee of National Liberation when the Nazis are ousted.

Americans were warned by Rear Admiral Francis Low, chief of staff for the Tenth Fleet, that the German submarines still are potentially dangerous. These undersea fleets might expand operations into the Indian ocean and perhaps the Pacific.

Here And There News Collected At Random

WINSTON CHURCHILL

When Prime Minister Winston Churchill prepares a speech, like his famous "blood and sweat and tears" which still rings in the ears of every Englishman as a clarion call of courage and strength, he devotes many hours of concentrated thought to his well-chosen words.

Like a newspaper man his opening paragraph gives him the most trouble and he often tries a dozen or more before he finally hits on one that satisfies him.

He dislikes and distrusts shorthand notes and almost always dictates directly to his typist. All his secretaries at No. 10 Downing street, the Prime Minister's London residence, use typewriters with exceptionally large type so that Mr. Churchill can read the words from a distance . . . and also see them in type.

He paces up and down the room, walks back and forth behind his secretary, repeatedly glancing over his shoulder as she types out his dictation. He is at his best, of course, with a big, black cigar in his mouth.

When the speech is completed he mulls over it, changes a word here and there. He slashes long sentences into short phrases and reads and re-reads it. He edits his own copy and he keeps at it up to the time of its delivery, sometimes changing some of the text just before speaking.

For that reason, newspaper men with an advanced copy of the manuscript have to follow the Prime Minister's delivery carefully, checking his spoken words against the manuscript to make certain they have the exact copy as it is delivered.

And Mr. Churchill usually commits his entire text to memory.

MARY PICKFORD

But Mr. Churchill is not the only one who uses a large-type typewriter.

Mary Pickford, who does not want her admirers to know that she wears glasses, and never does in public, is a large-type addict.

When Miss Pickford (Mrs. Buddy Rogers in private life) spoke at the dedication of the site for the proposed Longstreet memorial on the battlefield several years ago, she read from a (Please Turn to Page 2)

Pacific Action
The war tempo stepped up in the Pacific. Planes from an American carrier task force ripped Nauru. Japanese base 500 miles south of the Gilbert Islands, with 90 tons of bombs Thursday. It was the biggest raid of a six-day offensive that had been concentrated until Thursday on the Gilbert and Marshall islands. Not one American plane has been lost. Admiral Chester W. Nimitz has promised an offensive in the central Pacific.

The Japanese air force was striking back in stronger blows against the Allies battling on Bougainville in the Solomons. Thirty-five Japanese planes attacked at Empress Augusta bay Wednesday, inflicting casualties but losing 18 planes. On New Guinea, Australian troops advanced in the jungles to within one mile of the Japanese plateau positions at Sattelberg overlooking the Finschhafen area.

The Pacific campaign generally is "ahead of schedule," said Navy Secretary Frank Knox.

Chinese Action

In China, U. S. Planes raided the Japanese in the Tungting lake and Salween river areas yesterday, returning without loss. Chinese troops were reported advancing on the south bank of the Yangtze river.

Moscow said the withdrawal from Zhitomir to "more advantageous" positions was ordered because Red Army troops there could not be reinforced. The new Dnieper crossing and approach to Cherkasi by airborne troops also captured Ovruch, northwest of Kiev and 25 miles north of Korosten, in an additional thrust. Ovruch is just south of the White Russian border. Bern reports said Rumanian divisions fighting alongside the Germans in the Crimea were being evacuated.

Yugoslav guerrillas threw back German attacks in Croatia, but a broadcast communique admitted a retreat in central Bosnia after heavy battles.

The Ankara radio said the Nazis had begun invasion attempts upon the Aegean island of Samos.

Driver Unhurt In Accident Friday

Ralph E. Snyder, 39, McSherrystown, escaped injury at 8 o'clock Friday evening when the steering rod of his car buckled and the machine overturned and caught fire near the Hanover Shoe farms between Hanover and Littlestown.

Private Anthony Martin, of the local state police, who investigated, said that Snyder jumped from the machine when the steering gear broke while the car was making a turn. The machine continued on across the highway and turned over on a bank. The wiring system then caught fire. Damage was estimated at $150.

NAZI MOVE IN AEGEAN HINTS TURKISH BOLT

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
Associated Press War Analyst

Germany's claim to have occupied still more islands in the Aegean sea, on top of the capture of Leros the other day from British and Italian forces, fits perfectly into the picture of growing disaffection among Hitler's Balkan satellites and further marked signs of Turkish support for the Allies.

As this column pointed out Wednesday, the Nazi dictator in his swift drive to possess himself of all these little islands, which dominate the Aegean, is bent on creating a strategic barrier against the Allies in the Near East. His purpose is three-fold:

(1) To prevent invasion of the Balkans via the Aegean; (2) to keep the Allies from sending sea-borne aid to the Russians via the Dardanelles and the Black sea; and (3) to hold a club over the head of the Turks.

Seek Escape

Apart from the fierce resistance of the Greeks and the Yugoslavs, there are increasing signs that many people of Bulgaria, Rumania and Hungary are striving to find a way to escape Hitler's clutch. Allied headquarters in Algiers estimate that the Fuehrer is being forced to employ some forty divisions of varying strength perhaps close to 500,000 men—in southeastern Europe. That's far more than he can afford. In view of the terrible strain the Russian campaign is putting on his manpower.

Naturally, as Hitler's troubles increase, so does the independence of the Turks. The point has been reached where in the past few days they have been permitting newspaper correspondents to file dispatches from Ankara, the capital, saying bluntly that Turkey is headed for war on the side of the Allies.

Moral Support

The censorship wouldn't pass any such language unless the Turks were feeling sure of themselves. This doesn't necessarily mean that they will want to join the war actively, or that the Allies will need them. It certainly means moral support and probably material aid—grant of bases, for instance.

Small wonder then that Herr Hitler has a penchant for collecting Aegean islands. They can't cure his ills, but they can act as a blood transfusion. As things stand, he virtually dominates the Aegean and many of the most important islands lie close to the Turkish coast.

Apart from the strategic and psychological value in possessing the Aegean islands, as well as the great Mediterranean island of Crete which lies across the mouth of the Aegean, there may be a further important and highly interesting reason for German interest. Mr. John C. Merrill, city editor of the Easton (Pennsylvania) Express informs me that virtually the entire world's supply of emery ore comes from the Aegean islands of Naxos and Lemnos and the Smyrna hinterland, and that quite possibly Hitler's war industries would be in deep trouble without this ore.

War Needs Emery

Mr. Merrill introduced me by telephoning Mr. C. Albert Sandt, owner of the Jackson Mills Emery company of Easton, and between these two gentlemen I learned things about emery. It seems that heavily tooling is dependent on emery, which is used to grind down and polish not only important metal parts of machinery but lenses of various sorts. There's also an abrasive made from used bauxite, but that also is very difficult for Hitler to acquire. As I get it, without one or the other of these ores, the Germans might have to close down many of their war plants.

The United States, by the way, has no worries along this line.

Well, I've sailed by Lemnos, but so far as I knew it was just another island. I should have regarded it with much more respect and interest had I known about that emery which means so much to industry the world over.

Full House Enjoys High School Play

Playing before a packed house, Mask and Wig Dramatic club players of Gettysburg high school scored another success Friday evening with their second presentation of the three-act comedy, "Leave It to Mother." The play was given first on Thursday evening.

The cast of 12 characters, some of them veterans and others making their first appearance in a high school play, won generous applause from an appreciative audience that had words of praise for the entire cast.

Student committees assisted with the presentation of the play, the first of the season at the school. Misses Ruth McIlhenny and Ruth Scott directed with the proceeds going into the student council fund.

May Re-Examine Dad Draft Status

Washington, Nov. 20 (AP)—The deferment classification of thousands of men all over the country will be re-examined if the new draft-delay bill for fathers becomes law, as expected.

The House passed the measure Thursday. The Senate will act on it early next week. There is a likelihood, however, that the President will veto it.

The reason: The bill authorizes the President to transfer the functions of Selective Service from the control of Manpower Commissioner Paul McNutt—to whom the President gave it—to the director of Selective Service.

The only persons whose draft deferment would have to be re-examined are those working in areas outside the jurisdiction of their own draft appeal board. But many workers who have migrated to war centers would be affected.

Within 30 days after the bill became law the draft board of a deferred man now employed in another appeal board's district, would have to mail that board the man's complete file for re-examination.

Varied Profits In Gas Coupons

Easton, Pa., Nov. 20 (AP)—George Lanterman, identified by OPA agents as a janitor at the Phillipsburg (NJ) Trust Company, was sought today on a charge of selling stolen gasoline ration coupons as investigation of illicit gasoline coupon operations in the Allentown-Easton area continued.

Lanterman, the OPA charged, failed to destroy 40,000 coupons at the bank, and instead sold them to Carl Opitz, 45, Easton, for $45. Opitz then sold them to Paul Eastery, 38, Bethlehem, for $800, and Eastery in turn sold them to Paul Hartman who is under $500 bail on charges of possessing stolen coupons.

Cakes were marked 65 and 75 cents each while cup cakes were 30 cents a dozen. Pies were 30 and 35 cents each with smaller sizes on sale at 15 cents each. Strained honey sold at 40 cents a pint. Eggs ranged from 45 to 60 cents a dozen.

Helen Hayes In Bond Broadcast

Miss Helen Hayes, star of stage, screen and radio, will star in a "Women's Own" Thanksgiving war bond broadcast, "The Reason For Giving" on a coast-to-coast hookup over the NBC Monday afternoon at 12:30 o'clock. Iika Chase will be mistress of ceremonies.

A chorus of WAVES will open the program with "The Lord's Prayer" followed by interviews with women in varied professions. John Roberts, star of "Oklahoma" will sing and Miss Hayes will present a dramatic sketch.

Miss Harriet Elliott, associate field director for the women's division in the war bond sales campaign, will also speak.

Three Games Added To Maroon Program

Announcement of the completed basketball schedule for the Gettysburg high school varsity reveals the Maroons will play 18 games.

The three games added to the schedule announced last week include: December 17, Arendtsville, here; February 8, Gettysburg college frosh, at home, and February 23, Gettysburg college frosh, away.

Property Transfers

York Springs borough sold to George A. and Mildred H. Miller, Huntington township, a six-acre property in Huntington township. Noah S. and Anna E. Miller, Alexandria, Virginia, sold to John H. and Helen H. Bell, Washington, D. C., a 192-acre property in Mt. Joy township.

East Berlin National bank sold to Cletus E. Mummert, East Berlin, a lot in that borough.

Charles W. and Mary E. Sterner, Gettysburg, sold to John W. List, Baltimore, a seven-acre property in Franklin township.

W. Earl and Eva G. Lawver, administrators of the estate of Curtis J. Fohl, late of Biglerville, sold to Chestnut Hills farms, Gettysburg, a lot in Biglerville.

To Expand State Guard December 15

Harrisburg, Nov. 20 (AP)—The expansion program of the Pennsylvania State Guard—expected to go into effect about December 15—calls for establishment of regional headquarters in Philadelphia, Wilkes-Barre, Pittsburgh, Allentown and Oil City.

Among the five infantry regiments set up under the reorganization plan approved by Governor Martin, only those at Allentown and Oil City will be completely new. Total guard personnel will be increased by the program from about 4,000 to more than 5,000.

Hunch Saves Life Of Army Specialist

With U. S. Forces on Bougainville, Solomons, Nov. 7 (Delayed) (AP)—An Army specialist whose name and work are unmentionable because his job is an Army secret, played a lucky hunch on the Bougainville beach-head.

He had two foxholes, one well sandbagged and clean. The other was just a hole in the ground.

When bombs whined down Monday, he leaped into the hole in the ground. A bomb landed directly on the fancy foxhole. The specialist was covered with sand, but uninjured.

Philadelphia, Nov. 20 (AP)—War Ration Book 2 goes into the limbo of forgotten things today. The Office of Price Administration issued a reminder that blue stamps X, Y and Z, the last remaining in the book, are valid for the purchase of processed foods only until midnight.

BULLETINS

Peabody, Mass., Nov. 20 (AP)—Some 2,500 workers employed in 32 leather and tanning plants in the Peabody-Salem area continued their strike today in defiance of President Roosevelt's order to cease picketing and return to work at once.

Washington, Nov. 20 (AP)—Settlement of the bus strike that has had 40,000 Washington commuters thumbing rides since yesterday morning was announced today, just too late to get Saturday workers to the job on time.

Boston, Nov. 20 (AP)—The Atlantic Fishermen's Union (A. F. of L.) today called a strike of Boston, New York and New Bedford fishermen, which, Business Agent Austin Powers said would affect approximately 1900 men and tie-up about 120 boats in the three ports within the next six days.

Albany, N. Y., Nov. 20 (AP)—Governor Thomas E. Dewey today deferred executions of Louis (Lepke) Buchalter and two associates in Murder, Inc., for a third time because, the Governor said, President Roosevelt "has again failed to surrender Buchalter to the state of New York to be dealt with in accordance with law."

Atlantic City, N. J., Nov. 20 (AP)—For the first time since its meetings began here two weeks ago, the United Nations relief and rehabilitation conference today started issuing regular written statements setting forth proposals under consideration.

Madrid, Nov. 20 (AP)—The United States government has accepted in good faith Spain's explanation of a message sent last month to Jose P. Laurel, Japanese puppet president in the Philippines, according to the Spanish foreign ministry. The ministry said last night the American ambassador had advised it that Washington now considered the matter closed.

Bern, Switzerland, Nov. 20 (AP)—The Bucharest correspondent of the Swiss newspaper Gazette de Lausanne reported today that Rumanian divisions attached to the German Army in the Crimea had begun evacuation of the peninsula.

London, Nov. 20 (AP)—The Ankara radio said today that the Germans had begun attempts to invade Samos, Greek island north of the Dodecanese and next to the last Aegean stepping stone known to be in Allied hands.

Tampa, Fla., Nov. 20 (AP)—A Flying Fortress collided with another Fortress then crashed and burned 20 miles east of Tampa yesterday, killing at least eight and probably 10 men, MacDill Field public relations announced today. Although damaged and with one motor knocked out, the second Fortress reached MacDill safely.

Washington, Nov. 20 (AP)—The War Food Administration announced today it will release soon for civilian use part of the supplies of canned pineapple, asparagus, corn, pumpkin, spinach and figs owned and held by canners but set aside for government purchase.

PREFERS JAIL

the costs. Jail sentence was suspended.

Cletus Plank, Biglerville R. 2, was given a suspended jail sentence on an assault and battery charge. He must pay the costs. He was ordered by the court to "behave himself" or leave the county.

The case of Eugene Shaffer, New Oxford, who faces arson and two other charges, has been continued.

A long list of character witnesses appeared in court this morning to testify in behalf of Robert Curvin Diefz, truck driver from Hellam R. 1, York county, who has pleaded "no defense" to an involuntary manslaughter charge in a fatal accident on the Lincoln highway east of here on October 13.

LICENSED TO WED

A marriage license was issued here today to Ludwig Luther Keller, son of Albert Keller, Gettysburg R. 4, and Elsie Mae Frommeyer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leo B. Frommeyer, Bonneauville.

Direct relief payments to needy residents of Adams county during the week which ended Friday showed an increase of $220 over those of the preceding week, according to an announcement today by State Treasurer G. Harold Wagner. Payments totaled $277.70 which was $7.90 more than those of the comparable week last year.

Mrs. Harry Peters and infant daughter, Doris Marie, Gettysburg R. 2, and Mrs. John Todd and infant daughter, Susan Elizabeth, Taneytown R. 1, have been discharged as patients from the Warner hospital. There were no admissions.

Upper Communities

COUPLE OBSERVES 40TH ANNIVERSARY

Mr. and Mrs. Luther A. Gulden were entertained at a surprise party by their children at the Gulden home in Biglerville, Friday evening, in observance of the couple's fortieth wedding anniversary. Gifts were presented and a poem, written by the children and including reminiscences of the last 40 years, was read. Then Mr. Gulden offered a prayer of thanksgiving.

Mr. and Mrs. Gulden were married in New Chester by the late Rev. Mr. Bender. The couple has resided all of their married life in the Biglerville community. Mr. Gulden is a salesman for a feed and fertilizer firm.

The following children and friends attended the party: Mr. and Mrs. Luther Slaybaugh, Biglerville; Mr. and Mrs. George Shank, Guernsey; Mr. and Mrs. Harry Brough, York Springs; John C. Hartman, Gettysburg; Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Gulden and daughter, Gayle, York Springs; Mr. and Mrs. Donald Gulden, Harrisburg; Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Gulden and sons, Ronald and Jason, Oertanna R. D. Mr. and Mrs. Kermit Gulden and son, Gary, Norris-town. Refreshments were served.

Earl Lawver will lead the High School Christian Endeavor society at the Sunday evening service at 6:30 o'clock at St. Paul's Lutheran church, Biglerville. The topic for study will be "Why Help One Another?"

Capt. L. I. Huntley, Carlisle Barracks, will be the guest speaker at the Thank-Offering service at the Idaville United Brethren church Sunday morning at 10:30 o'clock.

The Young People's council will meet Monday evening at 8 o'clock at the York Springs Lutheran church. A colored scene-o-felt lecture, with musical accompaniment, will be given by the Rev. and Mrs. Earl Ensminger.

Miss Renee Shetter, a member of the staff of nurses at a hospital at Flushing, New York, arrived this morning to spend several days with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Shetter, Biglerville. Mr. and Mrs. Shetter will also have with them for several days their son, S. I. C. Donald Shetter, Norfolk, Virginia.

Plan War Saving Of 25 Billions

Washington, Nov. 20 (AP)—The suggestion was heard today that government spending for the war could be cut by $25,000,000,000 this fiscal year—enough to have paid the nation's entire bill in World War I. The Army has disclosed it was returning more than $13,000,000,000 it wouldn't need. Representative Taber (R-NY) asserted last night that the Navy was expecting to save between $4,000,000,000 and $5,000,000,000.

Thereupon Senator Russell (D-Ga) of the appropriations committee said scrutiny of all war expenditures might yield a reduction as high as $25,000,000,000.

"The war plants are built and the machine is functioning smoothly," Russell said, "and now we have time that we didn't have before to examine appropriation requests carefully. I am hopeful that we can save $25,000,000,000 at least."

U-Boat Warfare May Be Extended

Washington, Nov. 20 (AP)—The Germans still may have some tricks up their sleeves in U-boat warfare, even though their fleet is desperate and doomed.

Among Naval experts here there is some belief that in the months ahead the Nazis may attempt to expand their undersea offensive from the Atlantic into the Indian ocean and perhaps the Pacific. It may be, that in cooperation with the Japanese, they already have prepared bases for such operations.

This would amount to a major change in enemy submarine warfare and would call for consequent changes in strategy by Allied forces defending global supply lines. Until the defensive strategy was perfected the Germans might hold a temporary advantage and send upward the curve of Allied ship sinkings which for months has been extremely low.

THANKSGIVING SERVICE

A special Thanksgiving service will be given in Trinity Evangelical Reformed Church school Sunday morning. The orchestra, under the direction of Miss Alice Snyder, will open the program, and the church choir, under the same direction, will sing a Thanksgiving anthem. Pictures of "The Four Freedoms" will be displayed and discussed during the service. Miss Jeanne Spangler, chairman of the Special Activities committee, will announce the details of a special Christmas project for the Junior, Intermediate and Senior departments. The Adult department will meet in the main room for this service.

MOVE TO TOWN

Mr. and Mrs. Richard C. Lighter and family have moved from Oak Ridge to 353 Buford avenue. The Lighters recently purchased the Buford avenue property from Mr. and Mrs. Howard Kitzmiller.

Arendtsville

Miss Louise McDannell is spending the week-end with friends in Philadelphia. On Thursday Miss McDannell, who teaches in Hanover, was one of those who gave the fifth pint of blood to the blood bank.

Paul Hartman and William Cram were recent business visitors in Baltimore.

Mrs. Myron Knous is hostess to the Carnation Guild at her home this afternoon.

The schools of town will close for the Thanksgiving Day recess Wednesday afternoon.

C. G. Taylor has been on a business trip to Tremont.

The annual Thank-offering service of the Trinity Lutheran Women's Missionary societies will be held at the church on Sunday evening at 7:30.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Fowler have concluded a two weeks' visit with Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Shoop.

Robert Eicholtz, who has been serving as juror in the special session of District Federal Court in Harrisburg, was dismissed on Thursday.

JOHN BARRYMORE

The late John Barrymore was another. But his addition was due more to his inability to remember his lines than to his eyesight.

His lines were invariably written out, in large, bold type on a blackboard in the wings off-stage and Mr. Barrymore would glance hurriedly at the board for a cue to his next lines.

MICHAEL J. DOYLE

But our good friend, the late Michael J. Doyle, Esq., senior member of the law firm of Doyle, Barstow & Doyle, of Menominee, Michigan and mayor of Menominee for many years, did many strange things while dictating a speech or a brief in a legal action.

His private secretary occupied an end office in the seven-room suite which extended in an "L" shape. Mr. Doyle, immaculately dressed, would start pacing the floor as soon as he started to dictate. In a few minutes he would remove his coat, then his vest. Then he would stick a cigar in his mouth, hook his thumbs under his suspenders and really start to pace.

Biting off words in rapid-fire fashion, Mr. Doyle would become so engrossed in his dictation that he would start to ramble, into one office and then another, making a complete tour through the seven rooms, regardless of what was going on in the other offices. At the last office he would turn about and pace back to his secretary's office. There she would repeat the last two or three words she had heard and Mr. Doyle would pick up immediately and resume his dictating, repeating what he had said aloud as he rambled through the other rooms.

On one occasion he became involved in a legal discussion with one of his partners, as he passed through one of the rooms during his meanderings, and did not return to his secretary's office for two hours. But he picked up where his words had faded out of hearing of his secretary and finished his speech.

CORONER'S JURY

The witnesses were questioned by Doctor Crist, District Attorney J. Francis Yake and by various members of the jury which includes: John W. Hewitt, David McCullough, George T. Raffensperger, Robert Lewis, S. Richard Eisenhart and Hugh C. McIlhenny.

The other car, operated by Leonard Zinn, Hanover, was enroute from Carlisle to Hanover after its four occupants had spent the evening roller skating. Harold Little, Hanover, one of the passengers, remains in a critical condition in the Warner hospital. All of the boys were injured.

LICENSED TO WED

A marriage license has been granted in Frederick to Roy McIlford Bly, East Berlin R. 1, and Lottie Catherine Spertzel, York Springs R. 2.

No Whiskey Sales To Men In Service Here Up To Friday

Gettysburg still remained as dry as the Sahara for members of the armed forces who wish to buy whiskey from the state liquor store—unless they are fortunate enough to be from camps that have already received application forms needed by the servicemen to buy alcoholic beverage under the state's liquor rationing program.

The local liquor store had not as yet received application forms, cards and instructions up to closing time Friday evening. Clerks there said however they expected to receive the necessary forms and cards in the near future. No sales have been made to men in uniform here.

Harrisburg, Nov. 20 (AP)—Members of the armed forces were permitted to buy whiskey today under the state's experimental rationing program—providing they carried cards issued by the Liquor Control board and signed by superior officers.

Rationing to soldiers, sailors and marines began yesterday in Harrisburg as nearby military camps, posts and bases received supplies of application forms without delay.

Blackout Rules Are Unchanged

Blackout regulations and rules regarding night lights have not been altered or relaxed in this area, LeRoy H. Winebrenner, chairman of the borough council of defense declared today, as he reported that some businessmen are said to have removed blackout curtains from their business places after dimout regulations were modified in New York city and other coastal areas.

"A night air raid test may be expected at any time," Mr. Winebrenner said, "and all of the regulations stand. Violations will be investigated and penalties will be imposed as in the past," he declared.

PETAÏN UNDER GERMAN GUARD

Bern, Switzerland, Nov. 20 (AP)—Marshall Henri Philippe Petain's reported plan to draft a democratic constitution, which the Nazis prevented him from promulgating, was viewed here today as an attempted master coup to make way for a regime that would be acceptable to the Allies when France is freed.

(After Nazi rejection of the plan, the British radio said "everything points to an acute crisis in Vichy." Petain "is in a private villa under strict German guard," the broadcast said, quoting Stockholm and Bern advices. The broadcast was recorded by U. S. government monitors.)

It is known that the 87-year-old marshal, reliably said to have offered his resignation in protest against the thwarting of his plan, recently told friends that he was seeking a way to prevent a bloody revolution between the Vichy regime and the French Committee of National Liberation when the Germans are driven out. Friends who know him well say he believed his decree would accomplish this result.

Petaï's decree would have directed France back to the democratic constitution of 1875, it was said, and he would have renounced Pierre Laval as his successor.

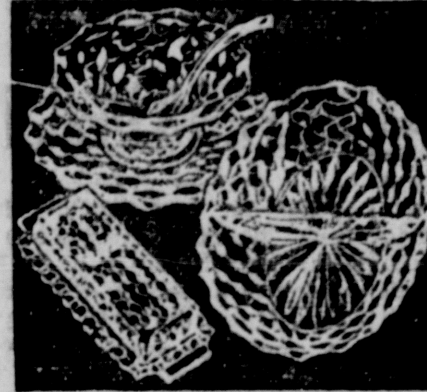

TOURIST CAMP SOLD

Mrs. Lillian Baldauf has sold her home, refreshment stand, cabins and camp ground along with furniture and equipment in Straban township, three miles east of here along the Lincoln highway, to William Hofmann, Elmont, Long Island, New York. Possession will be given December 1. C. A. Heiges made the transfer.

STATIONED IN ITALY

Mr. and Mrs. Guy Sterner, Gettysburg, have received word their son, Sgt. Kermit N. Sterner, is now in Italy.

American's Day Starts With Breakfast

American crystal never asks the time of day. You can set it out for breakfast, again for lunch, dinner, and all other times when food or drink is in order. It sparkles and glorifies any setting and is sturdily made to endure hard usage. Another virtue is its amazing low price. Still another, it is open stock. You can always match and add. So can one for whom you buy American as a gift.

MONTGOMERY IS DEFEATED BY BEAU JACK

By TED MEIER
New York, Nov. 20 (AP)—Beau Jack was back on top of the lightweight heap today and he gave full credit to his trainer, Larry Amadee.

Following Amadee's instructions to the letter the Beau, 3 to 1 underdog in the betting, regained the 135-pound title by outpointing champion Bob Montgomery in a furious 15-rounder at Madison Square Garden last night.

Under Amadee's tutelage Jack amazed the crowd of 17,866, that contributed to a gross gate of $96,873.04, by fighting differently than he did when he lost his title to Philadelphia Bob last May or when he was upset by Bobby Ruffin in a 10-rounder only six weeks ago.

Stayed Close
"I did just what Larry told me," the former Augusta, Ga., shoeshine boy explained in his dressing room as he was congratulated by a swarm of well-wishers, including Humphrey Bogart, screen star.

At Amadee's direction he stuck close to Montgomery. He mixed willingly at close quarters, slugged it out with both fists when the referee parted them from a clinch and coasted when Amadee gave the word.

The Beau needed Amadee's sage advice because Montgomery, always a slow starter, put on a whirlwind finish in the last five rounds that all but ended the scrap with Jack being counted out.

In the last two rounds, especially, Montgomery seemed to be on the verge of a knockout triumph, but somehow the Beau stood up to cart off an unanimous decision. The two judges each gave him 10 rounds while the referee gave him seven rounds. Montgomery six and called two even. The way we saw it Jack won eight, Montgomery six with one even.

Vicious Uppercut
Perhaps the punch that swung the fight to Jack came in the ninth round. As they came out of a clinch Jack smashed a vicious uppercut on Montgomery's mouth.

Had this uppercut not landed the Philadelphia Bobcat might have started his rally sooner. At any rate it won Jack both the ninth and tenth rounds and kept Montgomery on the defensive until he hurt the Beau with a right just before the bell ending the tenth stanza.

2 Cage Teams For Reception Center

New Cumberland, Pa., Nov. 20 (AP)—The Army's Reception Center will have two basketball teams this season, one from the 1389th Service Unit of the Special Training Unit and the other from the 1301st Service Unit.

The 1389th squad will be coached by Lieut. Bob O'Neill, former University of Illinois player. Sgt. "Joe Joe" Lawler, former coach at Mount St. Mary's and Scranton university, will coach the 1301st team.

State Is Favored To Defeat Pitt

Pittsburgh, Nov. 20 (AP)—Pitt and Penn State, once among the powers of the East but this year just a couple of teams finishing schedules with unimpressive records, clash in Pitt stadium today in the forty-second renewal of a gridiron rivalry that began before the turn of the century.

State, its lineup bolstered with Navy trainees, was a heavy favorite to defeat the Panthers before an expected crowd of 15,000.

Phillies To Train At Hershey In '44

Philadelphia, Nov. 20 (AP)—The Phillies are heading for Hershey, again.

The national league club announced yesterday that the team will train next spring, as it did last year at the central Pennsylvania model town, a move previously indicated by William D. Coc, Phillies prexy.

But while the Moguls were settling on the site, Uncle Sam picked off another player, with George Joseph, Philadelphia sandlot star signed after the season ended, summoned by the Navy.

The Athletics, not to be left behind in the flurry of baseball news, also announced the loss of a pitcher, Lou Cicla, right-hander who won one and lost three last year, called by the Navy.

Texas Schoolboy Kicks 13 Points

Mineral Wells, Texas, Nov. 20 (AP)—Harold White kicked 13 points after touchdown, a new Texas schoolboy football record, as Breckenridge high school swamped Mineral Wells last night, 103-0.

White had 15 touchdowns on which he could try his extra point kicking, and made the first 11 before missing.

Four Hockey Tilts Listed For Week-End

(By The Associated Press)
Four games make up the week-end schedule in the American Hockey league with only Cleveland and Indianapolis scheduled to see action more than once.

The Cleveland Barons have a long hop after tonight's home game with the cellarite Pittsburgh Hornets. Sunday the leading Barons will be in Providence.

Hershey's Bears, who have won six and tied one in eight starts for a commanding eight-point lead in the Eastern division, entertain Indianapolis tonight in their only week-end action.

In addition to Cleveland at Providence, the Sunday chart includes the first trip of Indianapolis into Buffalo.

SPORTS ROUNDUP

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.
New York, Nov. 20 (AP)—If Bob Montgomery had fought all of last night's bout the way he did the 14th round, he still would be world lightweight champion in New York and Pennsylvania. . . . But Beau Jack still is the guy we'd rather have on our side in an alley fight. . . . He's not a great champion, or even a good boxer, but he's able to make some pretty good ones look bad. . . . Anyway, the Beau gave Marine Private Jimmy Vergeles, whose collection of service ribbons is more colorful than his pop's adjectives, something to talk about when he goes back on duty. . . . Jimmy's dad, Chick, is Beau's manager.

HIGHER MATH DEPT.

George Bannon, the timekeeper for all the Garden fights and every major championship hereabouts for years and years, estimates that he has timed at least 25,000 fights in his 45 years of service. . . . But it's some of the guys who did the fighting who are hearing the bells in their heads now.

ONE-MINUTE SPORTS PAGE

If Al Postus scores for Villanova against Temple today (which is quite likely), he'll be the first player in the history of Philadelphia's backyard series to tally in each of his three years of eligibility. . . . Prexy Brick Laws of the Oakland club plans a confab with Babe Ruth during the minor league meetings about a job managing the Oaks—but the No. 1 candidate still is Dolph Camilli. . . . Jim Yeager, Colorado grid coach, recently recommended a player for the university librarianship and a faculty committee gave a unanimous okay. . . . That must either disprove the theory that football players can't read or prove that Jim is quite a convincing guy. . . . When Boston enters the National Football League, the team will be called the "Yanks." . . . And Bean-town scribes say it will take only a couple of defeats to change the Yanks to "jerks."

WHAT'S IN A NAME

Maurie Waxman, who claims credit for such colorful nicknames as "Two Ton Tony" Galento, the "Belting Brakeman" for Harry Balsamo and the "Sweetwater Swatter" for Lew Jenkins, has revived an old one by calling his current meat ticket, Bobby Ruffin, "Ruby Robert." . . . But if Bobby fails to fulfill Maurie's predictions about what he'll do to Sammy Angott, it will be the Waxman face that Ruby colored.

SERVICE DEPT.

George Abrams, ex-middleweight champion, is heading for somewhere in the Pacific before long. . . . According to Sgt. Hy Hurwitz, the Japs are against the Yanks, even in baseball. Reporting from a Marine base in the South Pacific, Hurwitz said radio reception of the Cardinals' efforts was good, but "every time the Yankees were at bat, a Jap broadcaster would burst in and drown out the reception." . . . Lieut. Albert A. Domingue, former Louisiana State U. lightweight boxer, really can show the soldiers at Otis Field (Mass.), where he is physical training officer, what he expects of them. In a recent physical fitness test he scored 212 points to finish ahead of every officer and enlisted man at the base. . . . After 20 months of service with the Army ski troops—including three months in the Aleutians—Larry Martin, former Wisconsin ski champ, drew a furlough and immediately headed for Iron Mountain, Michigan, to do a little skiing.

Jockey Sammy Benick, a ringside visitor last night, says they have some pretty good fights in Los Angeles, "but there's only one Garden—and one Belmont." . . . Lightweight Mike Delia, who fought in one of the prelims, used to do his roadwork in the Japanese cemetery in Los Angeles. . . . that's probably the next best thing to creating your own private one—like Barney Ross.

2 TEACHERS PER ROOM

State College, Pa., Nov. 20 (AP)—Two teachers in every classroom was proposed Friday by Dr. C. C. Peters, director of educational research at the Pennsylvania State college. Dr. Peters declared "one teacher would be a master teacher and one an assistant of a different age level—an apprentice, but not a tool."

CHICAGO-'SKINS IN GRID WORLD SERIES PREVIEW

By JACK HAND
New York, Nov. 20 (AP)—It couldn't happen in baseball but pro football's two world series favorites meet a month before the payoff tomorrow when the Chicago Bears invade the home wigwam of the Washington Redskins in a preview of their National league playoff game.

Harrisburg Catholic is expected to be one of the strongest opponents the Delone team has met this year and a hotly contested battle is assured.

Pitching for the Bears will be Sid Luckman, who broke most of the records in the book last Sunday, while the 'skins have nominated Sammy Baugh to do their chucking.

Although neither team has put the clincher on the pennant, the end of the season draws nigh with both divisional leaders among the unbeaten.

The Bears, with 261 points in eight games and a listful of new records every time they take the field, rate as 3 to 5 to trip the 'skins just as they did in an exhibition game, 21-14.

Griffith stadium has been sold out for two weeks in anticipation of a fancy passing exhibition with the home folks remembering that George Preston Marshall's champs did upset the Chicago lads a year ago.

May Catch Leaders
The New York Giants and Philadelphia-Pittsburgh combines still have a chance to catch Washington and the Green Bay Packers still can tie the Bears but it's pretty much of a wild goose chase.

Steve Owen's Giants have a soft touch at home with the Chicago Cardinals, who haven't won yet. The New Yorkers have four games to play—the Cards and Brooklyn once and Washington twice.

Brooklyn, with two straight wins after losing six in a row, runs into Don Hutson and the Packers at Ebbets field. Hutson can't miss setting some new marks and the Green Bay club figures to win from the improving Dodgers.

Detroit becomes the first club to complete the season in a road game against the Steagles in Pittsburgh.

Orrtanna
Orrtanna—Mr. and Mrs. Claude Fissel entertained recently at a farewell supper in honor of Mrs. Fissel's brother, Charles Shindeldecker, who will go on active duty in the Army next Tuesday.

The guests included Mr. and Mrs. Charles Shindeldecker, Mr. and Mrs. John Shindeldecker, Miss Mary Shindeldecker and Lawrence Shindeldecker, all of Charmian. Mrs. Lawrence Shindeldecker, a patient at the Waynesboro hospital, was unable to attend.

Pvt. Donald F. Shuley and Corp. Tech. Robert Daipier of Johnstown, New York, both stationed at Fort Dix, New Jersey, are spending week-end leaves with Shuley's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Shuley.

H. F. Lawver is reported somewhat improved following a severe illness. Floyd King has returned from a bear hunting trip to Cameron county.

Harrisburg Catholic Plays Delone Sunday

Delone Catholic high will bring its football season to a close Sunday afternoon when the strong Harrisburg Catholic high eleven will be met on the McSherrystown gridiron.

Three regulars, John Palmer, George Reese and Tom Wagaman, and two substitutes, Clyde Sterner and William Rinehart, all members of the senior class, will be playing their final game for the Squires.

Harrisburg Catholic is expected to be one of the strongest opponents the Delone team has met this year and a hotly contested battle is assured.

Hampton

Hampton—Lloyd Jacobs is on the honor roll at the East Berlin high school for the first quarter. His rating is also very high in the Future Farmers of America class.

Mrs. John Crist, Miss Kermit Crist and Mr. and Mrs. J. Wiser Crist, York, were Thursday evening guests of Mr. and Mrs. D. E. Myers.

Mrs. John Deatrick and infant son, John Hayden, returned to their home here last week from the Hanover hospital. Mr. Deatrick, who is employed in Baltimore, spent the week-end with his family here.

Mr. and Mrs. Lester Kaiser, Baltimore, and Mrs. Hagerman and two sons, of Hanover, were week-end guests of their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Hayden Deatrick.

The Ladies' Aid society of the Lutheran church met Friday evening at the home of the Rev. and Mrs. Elmer Drumm.

Mr. and Mrs. Boyd Crook and children, of Hanover, were Sunday dinner guests of Mr. Crook's brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Megonnell, Jr.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Decker and granddaughter, Rose Marie Fogle, and Mr. and Mrs. D. C. Myers and daughter, Janet, Pines Church, were Sunday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Luther Chronister, Red Lion.

To date $55.65 has been collected by Mrs. D. E. Myers for the United War Fund. $15 was contributed by the Reformed Sunday school. The remaining contributions were from individuals. Mrs. Myers was assisted in canvassing by Misses Lillie Mae Shelleman, Betty Jane Markel and Ruth Staub.

ADJOURN HEARINGS
Harrisburg, Nov. 20 (AP)—Sessions of Federal court, called to hear appeals of property owners from viewers' awards for land taken by the government, were adjourned Friday until 2 p. m. Monday.

The action came after a jury awarded Dr. J. H. Kinter and Gertrude Kinter $34,535 for a tract of land acquired by the Letterkenny Ordnance depot, in Franklin county.

IRISH TO MEET "PRO" 11 TODAY

New York, Nov. 20 (AP)—Can the present Notre Dame football team defeat a pro eleven?

Such a learned professor of the gridiron as Lt. Cmdr. E. E. (Rip) Miller of the Navy has suggested that the Irish would fare successfully with the play-for-pay teams but the average fan doesn't get his answer—a partial one—until today.

The Iowa Pre-Flight Seahawks, Notre Dame's unbeaten opponent at South Bend this afternoon, lists six former pros on its roster and five of them are certain to see action with Frank Maznicki also a possibility despite his injury.

That's as close as the Irish will come to facing a pro team—and the collegians are favored by 14 points. At the start of the week the game loomed as the toughest on the Notre Dame schedule but transfer of six Seahawks and the injury to Maznicki have lifted some of the pressure.

81 Passes Thrown In Friday Contest
Fort Smith, Ark., Nov. 20 (AP)—A running play seemed like a daring innovation last night as:

The University of Arkansas football team tried 60 passes, completing 26 of them for 372 yards and two touchdowns, and Oklahoma A. and M. gridmen tried 21 passes, and completed six for 49 yards.

Although the Aggies were out-tossed in this game of 81 attempted passes, they won 19-13.

Take hope from the heart of man,

Just Folks

By Edgar A. Guest

LIBERTY'S WORTH

Were freedom in life's market
cheap,
An easy right to gain and keep,
There'd be no need for boys to die
Its happy privilege to buy.

Could it with money be supplied,
For it no man had ever died,
Were it displayed on merchants'
shelves,
The rich would have it for themselves.

Were liberty, like trinkets small,
In comfortable reach of all,
There'd be no need, each twenty years,
For agony and blood and tears.

So precious freedom's every right,
It must be cherished day and night;
And once obtained, by struggle hard,
To keep it men must stay on guard.

So very dear is freedom's price
In life, and all men sacrifice,
That never more should we forget
Its cost in blood and tears and sweat.

Today's Talk

By George Matthew Adams

ON LOOKING BACKWARD

It is a good thing occasionally to review the past, to get light on one's present standing, to see how great the growth, or shrinkage, has become.

A newspaper friend of mine, on looking over a pile of back copies of his paper, came across a piece
that he had written and exclaimed:
"How I wish that I could write like that today!" An associate asked to see the piece and smiled as he exclaimed: "Why, you wrote this only two weeks ago!" Surprised, the writer laughed: "Oh, so I did. So I did."

I recently read of another illustration. Swift, the English writer, nearing the end of his life, and upon looking over some of his earlier work, exclaimed: "Good heavens! What a genius I once was!"

W. H. Hudson, the English naturalist, wrote a novel and had it published under another name. Not until 25 years later did anyone know that he wrote it. But so dissatisfied was he over it that he destroyed
every copy he could get his hands on. Today it is the rarest and most sought after item of all his writings.

As a rule each human being is his own best judge. We usually have a feeling as to our progress or growth, whether mental or spiritual. Business men like to go back and look over what has been done in the past, so as to note their growth. To review the past is to inspire incentive to do better and strive with greater zeal.

By looking back upon the work of each day we can resolve to make the next one better. Many there are who grow boastful and conceited
over what they have done in the past, but when the past is compared with what is being done in the present, a different light is shown.
Often one is chagrined at the lack of progress.

I like to quote that line that I came across somewhere: "Live as though you were to die tomorrow—work as though you were to live forever!"

Out Of The Past

From the Files of the Star and Sentinel and
The Gettysburg Times

TEN YEARS AGO

Sons of Vets Hold Fete in Cemetery Here: The commemoration of the dedication of the National cemetery here and the delivery of Lincoln's Gettysburg address, held Saturday under the auspices of the Gettysburg Camp No. 112, Sons of Union Veterans of the Civil War, brought many visitors to Gettysburg.

The brief exercises in the cemetery were held at the National monument and included prayer by Stuart P. Garver, of Gettysburg college; recitation of Lincoln's Gettysburg address by John W. Brehm, Jr., of the high school; the placing of a wreath on the graves of the unknown dead by Joseph H. Riggs;
singing by a quartet of the Roy Zinn family; brief address by Past Commander-in-Chief Theodore C.
Cazau; benediction by the Rev.
L. B. Hafer, and taps, sounded by Sergeant W. L. Baldwin, of the Reserves.

In the evening a banquet was held at the Eagle hotel under the auspices of the past commanders and past presidents' association of southeastern Pennsylvania with 130 guests present.

Adult Classes Open Monday: Gettysburg's first class in adult education for employed and unemployed
men and women of Adams county began on Monday evening at 8 o'clock. Professor Fred E. Kelly has been placed in charge of the organization.

A class in business English and one in world problems have been organized.

An effort is being made to find teachers and facilities to organize a class in typewriting and accounting. A call has been issued for a class in general sewing for adult women.

Professor Kelly was formerly associated in the department of education at Gettysburg college.

Motor Club to Form Patrols at All Schools: A county-wide safety program is being inaugurated by the Gettysburg motor club, Henry M.
Scharf, president of the club, has announced.

The campaign will be under the personal supervision of E. D. Mc-Nelly, field secretary of the Pennsylvania Motor Federation. Mr. Mc-Nelly hopes to organize schoolboy patrols and introduce safety programs in every school in Adams county.

The Gettysburg Motor club will equip the schoolboy patrols with Sam Browne belts and badges as well as poles and stop flags with which to direct traffic at schools.

McConaghe Named to New Post Here: James R. McConaghe, superintendent of the Gettysburg National Military park, has been named Federal Civic Works administrator for Adams county, by Eric H.
Biddle, state administrator.

Mr. McConaghe will supervise all projects in Gettysburg and Adams county for which Federal funds will be used under the recently created Civic Works administration bureau.

Impersonator Lives Lincoln Monday Night: Those who are interested in the life of Lincoln will have an opportunity to "live" again with the great emancipator on Monday evening when Dr. Lincoln Caswell will "act Lincoln" in a special performance at the Eddie Plank memorial gymnasium.

The entire proceeds of the performance will be used to defray expenses incurred in observing the seventieth anniversary of Lincoln's Gettysburg address.

Mothers' Club Meets Friday: A special meeting of the Gettysburg Mothers' club was held Friday evening at 8 o'clock at the home of Mrs. Mark K. Eckert, Springs avenue, with Mrs. John Phillips, of Pittsburgh, first vice-president of the State Federation of Pennsylvania Women, as guest speaker.

Italy's Chamber to Be Replaced:
Rome, Nov. 14 (AP)—Premier Mussolini said today the chamber of deputies of Italy, which does not please him, is to be replaced by the national council of corporations.

Personal: Miss Nancy Keith entertained a group of her classmates at St. Joseph's college at a buffet supper at her home on Carlisle street
following the Gettysburg-Mt. St.
Mary's football game.

Robert Lott, of Allentown, has been spending some time at his home near Gettysburg.

Mrs. Myra Houck and Miss Helen Houck, of Flora Dale, left on Wednesday for Los Angeles, California,
for a visit with relatives.

Riding with Russell

Reg. U. S. Pat. Off. by FREDERICK C. RUSSELL, Member S. A. E.

The flying automobile won't be anything new to those drivers who are always up in the air.

Sometimes it's comforting to know
when the engine is in fine fettle.
A reliable tipoff is a vacuum gauge
reading. The service man checks
the intake vacuum while the engine runs, and if the reading is between 17 and 21, and steady, he'll pronounce the engine o.k. Also when the engine is accelerated the reading should drop to 2, followed by a spurt up to 25 when the throttle
is closed again.

Hood Lifting Pays

A friend of mine tells a good one on himself, and I repeat it because it ought to be grist for the mills of those who, like himself, always believed it pays to lift the hood when things go wrong with the car, even though they are not sufficiently skilled in mechanics to know how to stimulate an ailing power plant.
My friend's car died out so completely that this time he decided not to follow his usual survey of sub-hood mysteries. Being in a hurry and not far from home he left the job and went about his evening activities. Later he had the car pushed to his home, leaving it there for two days until he could ask his favorite mechanic for a diagnosis. Imagine his chagrin when the service man raised the hood and immediately noted that the high tension wire had slipped away from the coil!

No one will ever know how much the motor world has paid for its failure to popularize the term "dechoking." Millions of times daily our automobiles need to be de-choked but drivers continue to assume that something is wrong,
actually making matters worse by choking when the engine needs just the reverse. In dechoking the driver merely permits the engine to suck in more air, less gas. This he can do by opening the throttle wide while cranking. One of the older cars actually had a three-way choke control. Pulled out, the choke operated manually. Left alone it operated automatically. But when the driver pushed the button in the choke was prevented from acting and the throttle was set for its wide open position.

Three To Remember
There may be little stock in shop windows these days but they still are highly useful in parking.
Usually you can catch the reflection of your car and accurately judge the distance between your car and the one behind.

If you are checking over the cooling system for signs of leakage of anti-freeze be sure to consider the core plugs in the engine block. These are the little expansion plugs which are soft enough to blow out should the engine develop steam in the block. On V-type engines these plugs are on the underside of the blocks and thus out-of-sight.

Difficulty shifting out of low gear
often is due to too sudden acceleration combined with too sudden lifting of the foot from the accelerator pedal. The braking effect of the engine puts up enough drag in the gears to make demeshing difficult.

Brake Pedal Comes First

There are two good reasons why you should form the habit of pressing the brake pedal before you press on the clutch pedal. One is concerned with the car in motion, the other with it standing still. In motion the car is best decelerated by pressing the brake pedal before de-clutching, thus permitting the engine to exert a braking effect. In parking, the car often is left in gear. Thus if the clutch pedal is depressed before the brake is applied the car may roll forward or backward enough to strike another car or trap a pedestrian walking between them.

In these days of reversals of normal procedure we have to be careful not to go off at a tangent when considering the needs of our aging cars. This is especially true of oil for the crankcase. Just because the engine is getting old we are tempted to assume that it makes no difference what sort of oil we dump into the crankcase, whereas the truth is that age calls for more care in the selection of lubricant. In general it is reasonable to use heavier grade of lube as parts become more worn,

but after a reconditioning a lighter
oil should be used. For winter service, however, light oil is needed regardless of the amount of wear on the engine because only with light oil will the engine crank easily enough to build up compression for a prompt start. Cranking speed has to be maintained in order to compensate for the engine's many other deficiencies.

Know This Knock

Among the engine knocks that plague the motorist is one that is so natural it too often fails to gain the slightest attention. This is knocking caused by straining, or engine labor. This, in turn, can be due to an overload, too high gearing on a steep hill, impatience in accelerating or efforts at obtaining performance beyond the capacity of the engine. Under any of these conditions the engine is likely to develop various types of knocking, the combination being something hard to diagnose if the owner fails to suspect laboring.

Motorists who are forced to use
last winter anti-freeze over again
may be alarmed over the color of the solution, but actually this merely indicates a color change due to the addition of rust inhibitor. Many are also now using acid inhibitor which may further change the solution's original distinctive hue. Last winter many motorists mixed two of the leading brands of ethylene glycol,
each with a different color trademark. The resulting hue was none too attractive, being suggestive of a mildly rusty content. Suffice it to say that the color is unimportant.
Frankly, it's what you can't see in the solution—the acid content—that is the real danger.

Brake On Steering

Maybe you never stopped to realize it but the steering wheel needs a bit of braking. This is called for after the car has completed a turn,
especially after rounding a corner.
To check too sudden return of the

Andy Bershak, Former All-America End, Dies

Pittsburgh, Nov. 20 (AP)—Andrew (Andy) Bershak, 23, All-America
end at the University of North Carolina in 1937, died yesterday at his home in nearby Clairton, after a long illness.

He had been on leave of absence
from his coaching duties at North Carolina.

Bershak played on the Clairton
high school team which won the WPIAL Class A championship in 1931. In 1934 he entered North Carolina and played through 1937.
He captained the team his final year.

CONSTABLE JAILED

New Castle, Pa., Nov. 20 (AP)—
John H. Gross, Republican candidate for constable, was fined $100
and costs and given six months in jail yesterday after he pleaded no contest to charge of unlawfully causing a false count in votes.

MISSING ON FLIGHT

West Palm Beach, Fla., Nov. 20
(AP)—Master Sgt. Robert O'Hara, of Lansdale, Pa., was listed by the Morrison Field Airbase as one of four passengers among 13 men aboard an Army plane which is missing on an over-water flight.

Draft Boards In Quandary On Dads

Philadelphia, Nov. 20 (AP)—A number of city draft board members were reported today to be debating handing in their resignations in the wake of an order from state Selective Service headquarters that boards make every effort to fill their quotas.

Many boards, rather than summon pre-Pearl Harbor fathers, have been sending less than the designated number of men to induction centers in recent weeks. All three members of one board resigned earlier this week in protest against drafting fathers while single men and childless married men are deferred.

One board member, not identified by name, said yesterday he was
"mulling over" resigning and declared that Selective Service administrations in Pennsylvania and New Jersey "appear to have opposing opinions of the drafting of fathers
at this time."

R.A.F. RETURNS TO BLAST REICH

London, Nov. 20 (AP)—RAF bombers, returning to Germany for the third successive night, blasted Leber-kussen and other Rhineland targets
last night, it was announced today.

Leverkussen is a chemical center
six miles north of Cologne.
Five of the RAF planes, which also laid mines in enemy waters, failed to return to their bases. The weather prevented immediate observation of the bombing results.

The blow was the fifth raid of the war on Leverkusen where poison gas components are known to be manufactured, and followed two recent raids on the world's largest chemical center at Ludwigshafen.

Leverkussen was hit last on Aug.
22.

The bomber force presumably was considerably smaller than the record fleet of nearly 1,000 which smashed Berlin and Ludwigshafen Thursday night with a total of 2,500 long tons of explosives, with most of the destruction being hurled on Berlin.

American fortresses escorted by Thunderbolts attacked targets in western Germany by daylight yesterday and returned to their bases without loss. Pilots said they did not encounter a single enemy fighter and but little anti-aircraft fire. The targets were not named in the U. S. communiqué and no explanation was given for the omission.

"Share The Coal" Plan Is Adopted

Philadelphia, Nov. 20 (AP)—A
"share the coal" plan, which the Office of Defense Transportation said would assure coal for homes in a seven-county area so long as shipments from the mines continue, was ready for operation today.

Under the plan, worked out yesterday at a conference of distributors and the ODT, dealers agreed to fill orders only within a five-mile radius of their yards, turning over orders from outside the zone to other dealers. When a dealer is unable to make delivery in his zone, the next nearest dealer will fill the order. New customers will be referred to a dealer within their residence area.

LAWRENCE NOT CANDIDATE FOR U. S. SENATOR

Harrisburg, Nov. 20 (AP)—Dayid
L. Lawrence, Democratic state chairman, was on record today with a prediction his party will agree on candidates for the 1944 election after party leaders decided to present a united front.

"I feel very sanguine relative to party unity in Pennsylvania," declared Lawrence yesterday, following a conference which U. S. Senator Joseph P. Guffey attended. "I feel that all leaders of the party are convinced that united we can win
but if we engage in another bitter primary our prospects will be lessened."

In 1938, Lawrence and Guffey headed rival factions in a hot primary fight.

Not A Candidate

Lawrence eliminated himself as a candidate for the U. S. Senate post now held by James J. Davis, a Republican, with the statement:

"I am not a candidate."
He insisted no candidates were discussed at the Washington meeting but indicated names may come before party leaders at another meeting next month.

Next year, Pennsylvanians will elect one U. S. Senator, a justice of the state supreme court, Congressmen, state treasurer and auditor general, the full membership of the state House of Representatives and half the state Senate, in addition to balloting for President.

Anthony J. Drexel Biddle and John B. Kelly, both of Philadelphia, have been mentioned as possible
Democratic Senatorial candidates.

Truck Crashes Into Carriage; Three Die

Lancaster, Pa., Nov. 20 (AP)—A third Amishman died early Thursday of injuries suffered Wednesday
when their horse-drawn carriage
was struck by a truck at Leaman Place, near here.

He was Noah H. Fisher, 48, of Ronks, not related to the Rev.
Christian L. Fisher, 74, and his nephew, Amos S. Fisher, 48, also of Ronks, who were killed instantly
in the crash Wednesday. The driver of the carriage, Christian M. Fisher, son of the preacher, escaped with slight injuries.

Later Wednesday police arrested
Walter Stuffer of Glen Rock, York county, on charges of involuntary manslaughter and leaving the scene of an accident. He was held in $2,000 bail by Justice of the Peace
Ralph Keene of Vintage.

The victims were on their way to a barn-raising when the accident occurred.

MARTIN NAMES JUDGE

Harrisburg, Nov. 20 (AP)—Governor Martin has offered Walter P.
Smart, Democratic Allegheny county solicitor and county judge-elect, the unexpired term of the late Judge
Ralph H. Smith, Democrat. Smart was elected this month to a regular judicial term which starts the day
Judge Smith would have left office.

Riding With Russel

steering wheel to the straight ahead
position the best plan is to press
your hand firmly against the rim
but without grasping it. Let the rim slip through the hand, braking
it the while. This is much more graceful than letting the wheel fight
your grasp, and it makes for a better job all around. Unless you apply some braking on the wheel you may find that the swing-back to straight ahead is so violent the wheel
actually goes over to a reverse position.

In The Motor Mail

Q. It seems to me that I get unusually poor gas mileage on short runs. I have taken into account the fact that there is more choking for short runs and that the engine doesn't warm up to efficiency, but the mileage record still should be better than it is. G. B. N.

A. Look to the manifold heat control. My belief is that it opens too early, insufficient heat being kept in the intake manifold. This results in too slow warming up.

Q. While the engine of my car
idles well it misses at higher speeds, uphill or on the level. Carburetation and ignition are in good order.
D. W.

A. There may be weakness in the breaker arm spring. Have it checked for tension by your service expert.
Another possibility is that you have several weak valve springs.

Q. Both the dash and the tank units of the electric gas gauge on my car have been replaced, but I still don't get accurate reading.

World's Fastest Motor Is Built

Pittsburgh, Nov. 20 (AP)—The world's fastest industrial motor—
an electrical "whirling dervish"— revolving 1,000 times a second—has been built by Robert M. Baker of Westinghouse research laboratories
to speed production of airplane engines and other precision-built war equipment.

Westinghouse said the motor can be used to drive high-speed grinders that put a mirror-like finish on hard-to-reach internal surfaces of plane and tank engines.

What is your idea of the next step to take? D. M. L.

A. There must be something wrong with the wire connections,
or one unit or the other may not be properly grounded. Check the wires to make sure they are not pinched. Between the fender arms and the car's body is a likely spot
for a short.

Q. There is a bad squeak in the right front brake of my car. I have had the wheel off and can't find anything wrong. There is no dust in the lining or any metallic particles. Rivets do not "show through." Also the lining does not seem to be loose. Wm. J. F.

A. There may be a twisted shoe.
Another cause of brake squeak is a bent backing plate.

Mr. Russell will answer questions regarding the safe care and operation of your car. Just address him care of The Gettysburg Times and enclose stamped, self-addressed envelope for personal reply.

Draft Board Quits In Philadelphia

Philadelphia, Nov. 20 (AP)—In a protest against the drafting of fathers before childless war workers, all three members of Philadelphia Service Board No. 38 have resigned.

State Selective Service officials at Harrisburg Thursday confirmed that the men, Royal Morris, John Stehle and Frank Grim had resigned and said "their resignations will be effective when their successors are named." Otherwise, state officials withheld comment.

MONDAY AND TUESDAY

After a four years absence from filmland, Lise Rainer shares stardom with Arturo de Cordova, Paul Lukas and William Bendix in Paramount's exciting and dramatic adaptation of Stefan Heym's best-selling novel, "Hostages," coming Monday to the Majestic theatre.

A story of love, devotion and courage among those battling Hitler inside his own lines, "Hostages" tells a dramatic tale of the terror the Nazis are now experiencing on the powder keg of their own "Fortress Europe."

WEDNESDAY

Mrs. Dagwood Bumstead, America's favorite housewife, throws the disorderly routine of the Bumstead household into complete chaos in the latest edition of Columbia's "Blondie" series, "Footlight Glamour," which is coming to the Majestic theatre next Wednesday. She is bitten by the acting bug.

Penny Singleton is still our lovely and lovable blonde Mrs. Bumstead, Arthur Lake her devoted if slightly off-the-bean husband Dagwood, Larry Simms, their Baby Dumpling (now grown to the dignified stage of being called Alexander) and Marjorie Ann Mutchie as Cookie, the Bumstead's younger child.

WEDNESDAY MIDNIGHT, THURSDAY, FRIDAY

Abbottstown

Abbottstown—Mrs. Robert Emig has been ill at her home for the past two weeks suffering with rabid fever.

Pfc. Richard Sanders, Virginia, is visiting his wife and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Merle Sanders.

Mr. and Mrs. Laurence Harris and family recently spent several days with Mr. Harris' father in Baltimore.

Mrs. Gilbert Zeigler left Wednesday for Mississippi where she will spend two months visiting her husband who is stationed at Camp Van Dorn.

Mrs. Lester Hoover entertained a number of relatives and friends Tuesday night in celebration of her husband's 50th birthday anniversary.

The Ladies' Aid society of the Reformed church will hold a festival in the basement of the church Saturday, November 20.

On Thanksgiving Day a joint Thanksgiving service will be held in the Reformed church at 8 o'clock. The Rev. Snyder Alleman, pastor of St. Johns Lutheran church, will deliver the sermon.

Adventures of Snooky

Olivia de Havilland, who has the leading role in "Princess O'Rourke," A fresh and charming picture that hits just the right note of relief from the stresses of these times is the new Warner Bros. comedy, "Princess O'Rourke," which begins its local engagement at a midnight show Wednesday at the Majestic theatre.

Key characters in the yarn are Olivia de Havilland and Robert Cummings, who star in the romantic story. Olivia is in the role of a royal Princess in exile.

The cast includes Charles Coburn, Jack Carson and Jane Wyman.

MONDAY AND TUESDAY

After a four years absence from filmland, Lise Rainer shares stardom with Arturo de Cordova, Paul Lukas and William Bendix in Paramount's exciting and dramatic adaptation of Stefan Heym's best-selling novel, "Hostages," coming Monday to the Majestic theatre.

A story of love, devotion and courage among those battling Hitler inside his own lines, "Hostages" tells a dramatic tale of the terror the Nazis are now experiencing on the powder keg of their own "Fortress Europe."

WEDNESDAY

Mrs. Dagwood Bumstead, America's favorite housewife, throws the disorderly routine of the Bumstead household into complete chaos in the latest edition of Columbia's "Blondie" series, "Footlight Glamour," which is coming to the Majestic theatre next Wednesday. She is bitten by the acting bug.

Penny Singleton is still our lovely and lovable blonde Mrs. Bumstead, Arthur Lake her devoted if slightly off-the-bean husband Dagwood, Larry Simms, their Baby Dumpling (now grown to the dignified stage of being called Alexander) and Marjorie Ann Mutchie as Cookie, the Bumstead's younger child.

WEDNESDAY MIDNIGHT, THURSDAY, FRIDAY

Abbottstown

Abbottstown—Mrs. Robert Emig has been ill at her home for the past two weeks suffering with rabid fever.

Pfc. Richard Sanders, Virginia, is visiting his wife and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Merle Sanders.

Mr. and Mrs. Laurence Harris and family recently spent several days with Mr. Harris' father in Baltimore.

Mrs. Gilbert Zeigler left Wednesday for Mississippi where she will spend two months visiting her husband who is stationed at Camp Van Dorn.

Mrs. Lester Hoover entertained a number of relatives and friends Tuesday night in celebration of her husband's 50th birthday anniversary.

The Ladies' Aid society of the Reformed church will hold a festival in the basement of the church Saturday, November 20.

On Thanksgiving Day a joint Thanksgiving service will be held in the Reformed church at 8 o'clock. The Rev. Snyder Alleman, pastor of St. Johns Lutheran church, will deliver the sermon.

FINAL ASSEMBLY
By E. H. LEFTWICH

Chapter 9

Lester Graham draped his shorts over the back of a chair and reached for his peppermint-striped pajamas. He ran lean thin fingers through his tangled sand-colored hair and frowned at Pete who lay outstretched on the bed, grinning at him.

"What's bothering you, Les?"

"It's those blueprints!"

"What blueprints?"

"The ones at the plant."

"What's wrong with them?"

"It's the dimensions and the specifications. It's hard as hell to find 'em. I killed an hour before lunch tonight, trying to find the size of a hole in the left strut mounting and when I finally gave up, the foreman killed another hour before he, too, gave up."

"Aren't the dimensions on the prints?"

"Sure, they're there, all right but there's no telling where you'll find 'em. The engineers seem to take delight in hiding the dimensions, making the prints hard to read."

"Well, did the foreman finally find the dimensions of the hole?"

"Of course not. If I couldn't find it . . . how in hell could he?"

"Well, what did you do about it?"

"I tried to find you at lunch, but couldn't. So after lunch, I sent for old man Mose."

"And he found it?"

"Yeah, after another thirty minutes."

"The old boy must be pretty good."

"He's kind of screwy in the head. That's the kind of a guy it takes to find anything on those prints."

"So, that's why you tried to find me?"

"No, Pete. Les shook his head. "I didn't mean that you were screwy. I just figured that someone new, someone with an unbiased mind, might be able to locate the dimension."

"Well, why haven't you done something about it . . . I mean the prints?"

Les finished buttoning the coat of his pajamas and crawled into bed. He fished a cigarette from a pack on the dressing-table, lit it, took a deep drag and settled back on his pillow.

"Listen, Pete," he said solemnly, "you're new here, or you wouldn't ask such a foolish question. Whenever you try to do something about something at the plant, all you get is the run-around. The lead-man refers you to the supervisor; the supervisor refers you to the foreman and the foreman tells you they can straighten things out in 'Works Centralization'."

"Okay. You go to 'Works Centralization,' and they send you to 'Engineering Co-ordination' department. 'Co-ordination' sends you to 'Division of Design and Alteration,' and what do you think they tell you?"

"I'm sure I don't know. What do they tell you?"

"They tell you that you'll have to have a complete report on the complaint, made out by the foreman in triplicate on form 76314-16-B6, and have it okayed by the night superintendent."

"Is that all?"

"That's enough, isn't it? Who in hell wants to do all that? Nobody is fool enough to do it, and after all, that's what they want. They intend to run their business their own way and they don't want anybody telling them how to do it."

Pete rose to a sitting position and faced Les.

"Listen, Les," he said, eyes serious. "These ships are pretty important. Surely, the Company will listen to an employee who is only trying to help . . ."

"That's what you think, Pete . . . but it's no use. Ernest Kahl and his gang are running the place their own way; we just work there. . . ."

"Just the same," Pete interrupted, "things don't seem to be running right out there. This was my first night. I saw men killing time . . . loafing. 'Chasing-the-dog,' they called it. They put me on chasing-the-dog. That was my work for tonight. They paid me good money

East Berlin

East Berlin—Mr. and Mrs. Ervin Mummert transacted business in York, Friday.

Pfc. William S. Elgin, Lewistown, spent the week-end on furlough with his parents, Dr. and Mrs. Eugene Elgin and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Leonard L. Myers, who have been living with his father, Elmer Myers, and family, since their marriage in August, will soon occupy the Mervin Jacobs house.

The sale of stock, farm machinery, and household goods of Hayes L. Anthony took place Saturday at his farm near Two Churches, with very good prices realized. The farm has been bought by Ellsworth Tanner, Baltimore, who will move next month. The Anthony family are now at the former Reeser property here.

Mr. and Mrs. David S. Kime are entertaining their son, David S. Kime, Jr., who is on leave from Camp Edwards, Massachusetts.

Mrs. Maggie Burgard has returned to her home after spending several months in York.

Mrs. Augustine J. Tierney visited her cousin, Miss Mae Adelaide Kuhn, Hanover, during the week. Miss Bettie M. Tierney attended to business in York during the week.

The annual Union Thanksgiving service will be conducted Wednesday evening at 7:45 at Zwingli Evangelical and Reformed church, with the Rev. Irwin M. Lau, York, a former member of the Trinity Lutheran congregation, as guest minister.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry E. Serff, who were guests of their daughter, Mrs. Leo A. Miller, and family, Millville, have returned home.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard O. Riggs have returned after a trip to Brookville, Maryland, where they visited his parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. Bishop Riggs, and from Washington, D. C., where they accompanied her brother, Cpl. Fred E. Shetter, who returned to Pawley's Island, South Carolina, after a week's furlough here.

The next meeting of the Home Economics Clothing group will take place Tuesday afternoon, December 8, at the home of Mrs. John Myers.
